1. What are cookies?

Cookies are small data files that are created by the web server and stored through the web browser onto your device (computer, laptop, tablet or mobile phone) for the following purposes:

To increase your comfort and satisfaction.

Using cookies, our company evaluates the behavior of visitors on this website and carries out marketing and statistical analysis with the aim of providing a user-friendly experience.

How does it work?

When you visit www.vocalls.cz, Cookies are stored on your device, which identify the respective machine and then, using technology developed by Google (company HQ: Google LLC; 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway; Mountain View, CA 94043; USA), we collect various information about you, our visitors, so that we could make our application more accessible and targeted to your needs. The collected data is processed within Google technology in bulk in the form of grouped data. Our company does not analyze particular IP addresses, or a particular Cookie record. Click on the following link to find out more about how Google uses its technologies:
